12. The recoveries in the escrow overcharge cases alone are over $250 million. Leff was the seminal case on mortgage escrow overcharges.

13. The escrow litigation had a substantial effect on industry practices, resulting in limitations on the amounts which mortgage companies held in escrow.

14. Bankruptcy: The firm brought a number of cases complaining that money was being systematically collected on discharged debts, in some cases through the use of invalid reaffirmation agreements, including the national class actions against Sears and General Electric. 23. Fair Credit Reporting Act: The firm has filed numerous cases under the Fair Credit Reporting Act, primarily as class actions.
